THE ALDERMEN. The Preliminaries to the Work of Obtaining Concents Completed-Principal Fea-tures of the Pian of Construction,

The Rapid Transit Commission met at noon yesterday at its rooms in the Home Life building. All the members were present except the Mayor and the Comptroller. The meeting was opened to the public at 2 o'clock. Secretary Delafield said that Mr. Starin had moved the adoption of a report upon routes and a general plan of construction. The roll was called and or Pac 2d, c...

wery one voted "Yes."

Then it was announced that Mr. Low moved for the adoption of the report prepared for presentation to the Common Council. This was also unanimously carried, and the meeting adjourned. This completes the preliminaries to the work of getting private and public consents to the building of the projected roads.

The routes adopted yesterday were exactly the same as those adopted about six weeks ago. Secretary Delafield said the general plans of construction were the same, except that they vent more into detail than heretofore. Besides these changes, there was a legal reason for having the date of their adoption brought down to a time since the passage of the recently approved amendments to the Rapid Transit law by which the Commission acquires more power and gets the right to spend $55,000,000 instead of $50,000,000. The routes and plans form a part of the report to the Common Council.

The rest of the report sets forth first a legal The rest of the report sets forth first a legal history of the commission and its doings up to May 9. Then it continues:

"The Board is of the opinion that the rapid transit railway, the routes and general plan of construction of which it now submits for your consideration, can be completely built ready for operation (exclusive of the equipment, which is to be furnished by and be the property of the contractor who shall operate the same) for less than the sum of $50,000,000."

The principal features of the plan of construction are these:

on are these: 1. The tracks are to be placed substantially

1. The traces are to be placed as near the surpon a level.

2. The railway is to be placed as near the surface as street conditions will permit.

3. The total depth of excavation necessary for the construction of the railway and its foundations will be in general only about eighteen feet, except in the centre of the street, where the depth will be about two feet greater. The elements which involve risk to the neighboring building have been almost completely eliminated, nor is any damage to abutting property to be apprehended in any case by the construction of the railway.

nated, nor is any damage to abutting properly to be suprehended in any case by the construction of the rallway.

4. Below Park place, on Broadway, the present plan includes only two tracks. These will be placed in a tunnel 25 feet wide, and in the centre of the street. Old and large buildings like Trinity Church and the Astor House will not be exposed to the slightest danger.

5. The placing of the rallway close to the street surface permits and requires an arrangement of sewers, water mains, gas pipes, electric conduits, and other sub-surface structures in Broadway from Park place to Thirty-fourth street which will be most advantageous to the city and to the owners of property on Broadway. It is proposed to construct, in connection with the rallway and at the side of or beneath the tracks, large and well-appointed galleries in which all such pipes and conduits will be placed. These galleries, when at the side, will facilitate the better ventilation and lighting of the tunnel, and the space afforded by them will facilitate construction and repairs. The proposed galleries for any purpose accept a purpose necessary to the actual operation of the railway the Board will reserve to the city all revenue to be derived from the use of the galleries for any purpose except a purpose necessary to the actual operation of the railway. The abutting owners on Broadway, after the construction of the road, will enjoy the great and, for New York, the unprecedented advantage of a street the surface of which need to disturbed only at long intervals, and then only to renew the pavements as they become worn by surface traffic.

6. The method of construction proposed by the Board is neither experimental nor untried.

to renew the pavements as they become worn by surface traffic.

4. The method of construction proposed by the Board is neither experimental nor untried. The work will be attacked at as many points along the route as may be considered destrable. The progress of construction will be expedited to the utmost, and the inevitable discomforts reduced to a minimum. The running of the surface cars is not to be suspended. On Broadway south of Thirty-fourth street, except at Cahal street, no more of the street surface is to ginterfered with at one time than one-half on one side or the other of the centre line of the street. Openings are not to be more than 200 feet, long, and consecutive openings are to be constructed by free and undisturbed spaces of at least 500 feet. least 500 feet.
7. The railway tracks are to be of standard gauge, so that the railway cars can be large and opening this morning the reaction that set in yesterday afternoon, and stimulated speculation throughout the list to an extent that made to-day's market the most active since the present improvement began, and carried the prices of many stocks to the highest figures recorded for them. It is currently estimated by foreign arbitrage houses that they bought in the aggregate to-day for their European correspondents between 50,000 and 75,000 shares of various stocks. They also bought liberally of bonds. The preference of foreign dealers appears to be for low-priced se-curities, a circumstance that encouraged speculation in stocks of that class for which there is not an international market. The extension of speculative interest to stocks that have not re reived attention for many months was even more pronounced than yesterday.

Total sales of stocks were 474,807 shares.

The important development of the day was a sharp break in the sterling exchange market. It was due in part to the pressure to sell bills drawn against securities purchased abroad; but mother factor, not generally known until shortly before the close of business, was the notice given by the managers of the Government bond syndicate that it will return to-morrow 40 $ cent., or about $12,000,000, of the $32,500,000 contributed by the members of that syndicate last February in connection with the float-ing of the last is-ue of 4 9 cent bonds. The decision of the managers of the syndicate to return this money means that its efforts to control the foreign exchange market are meeting with success to such an extent that it has no further use for nearly half of the capital contributed for that purpose. Bankers and in-stitutions that contributed to the syndicate fund will have to seek other employment for the money now returned to them. The probable effects upon the money and security markets of the redistribution of the amount mentioned above are obvious. The dealings in stocks footed up nearly half a million shares, and they were unusually well distributed. In haif a dozen stocks the transactions exceeded 25,000 shares, but in no stock were the dealings disproportionately large. The greatest progress toward higher prices was made by St. Paul, Jersey Central, Reading, Chesapeake and Ohio, Western Union, and S S. Jone of I st. TH. 50% Atchison, and among the less active stocks by American Tobacco. Louisville and Nashville, New England, Texas Pacific, United States Leather preferred, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, and Louisville, New Albany and Chicago com mon. The merits or rather the arguments that can reasonably be advanced in favor of a number of these stocks, particularly those that have been absolutely neglected for many months, realized that the recent depression and inactivity has been largely due to the condition of speculative sentiment. Now that a change for the better has taken place, resulting in an advance of prices, many operators are wondering them before.

The chances are that from this on more rational views regarding a large number of neglected securities will be entertained until prices reach figures that reflect exaggerated ideas of values and more than discount the improvement in business that is gradually taking place outside of Wall street. That period, how-ever, seems to be a long way off, un-less something should happen to abate the arder of European investors and dealers. It is to be noted that, in spite of a sharp rally in Sugar Refining, which was not sustained to the close of business, the market for refined sugars shows continued hesitancy, and that for raw sugars is also easier. The feature of the late dealings was a sharp advance in Jersey Central and Reading, based upon a re-vival of reports that capitalists interested in the first named are buying Reading securities with the view of controlling the reorganization and ultimately harmonizof the anthracite coal interests. If there is any basis for these reports, it means that banking interests not recently identified with the financing of the Reading Company are the unfunded obligations of that company and satisfy the claims of the holders of the general mortgage 4 P cent. bonds. The closing of the stock market was strong, with prices in the main at the best figures.

To-Day's Fratures.—Nothing frightened the bears to day more than the rumor that the Bureau report to morrow will be bullish; that it will estimate the decrease in the acreage at anywhere from 15 to 25 9 cent. But there were olier things to make them feel rather uncomfortable, namely, the sudden activity in Liverpool, accompanied by higher prices, the pressure to buy there for abort account, the liberal advance in New Orleans to-day, the good exports from the Southern ports, the bullish North Carolina State report, the heavy and possibly injurious rains in some parts of the Nouth, the report that the Russo-Japan question has been settled, and some accession here of outside trading, which has been noticeably absent of late. The situation was, in a word, more cheerful in New York, New Orleans, and Liverpool. A largh bull the observable of the seeling or bears were buying. The market fook the cotton readily and the undertone was considered firm. One firm and: "With hardly an exception, everything dealt in on exchanges has been strong and advancing, and yet cotton has more intrinsic value perhaps than any other speculative commodity, but inasmuch as we have given to Furope a larger proportion of this crop than of any previous one, and because they feel momentarily a little independent, it is daily seen that not withstanding an unlavorable crop outlook, with adminstraining supply and a consumption that is continuing on the largest scale ever known. Liverpool, as the controlling market, has relapsed into dillness, showing thereby a dischination to give credence not compare the propertion of this crop than of any previous one, and because they feel momentarily a cheng prepared for. From a supply and demand basis, what do we find? The records show, indispurably, that on April 1 the English spinners reserve or invisible stock was only 50,000 more than last year

Europe will not begin to receive any quantity until a month later."
